Length of the course is about 4 km both days, with many controls. Runners need to have a mobile, with installed MapRun application (available on Android and iPhone). A printed map is also provided; however, the current position is also shown by the application.
SI card is not required; the mobile will track the legs and time split details.
At the venue there will be a small test course to test the MapRun application on your mobile.
Downloading and installing the application will be also supported.
In case of a rainy day when the mobiles are hardly to use in the terrain, the category would be changed into a conventional advanced open technical category, supported by a printed map and SI card.
- Attention! The invitation may be changed depending on the state of COVID-19 epidemic.
