Both traditional SI cards and Air+ chips can be used for punching. Air+ chips can be borrowed (limited supply). If the SI box (or SI card) fails, please punch on the map (traditional pin punch will be available at the controls).

Refreshment stations

In the Long Distance competition, two refreshment stations will be operating in the terrain – not sited at controls (see course data). Only water will be available. Individual refreshments marked with name and the number of the refreshment control (see course data) can be sent out. Individual refreshments have to be left at the designated location in the finish tent between 9:00 and 9:30 on Sunday.

Specific course information

On Sunday, M21E competitors will have to punch one control twice during the competition.

Relay

Farsta type relay with mass start. Changeover zone and map start distance: 200m.

Picking up maps according to your start number. Corridor and stripes leading to the map start are mandatory to follow.

Spectator control will be 50m from the finish line and well visible by everyone.

There is no pre-warning of incoming competitors from the organisers, everyone has to look out for their respective teammates at the spectator control.

After the spectator, the last loop is 900-1000 m long. The last control is also visible, 120 m from the finish.

Changeover is done by touching hands. The punching of the SI finish unit is behind the finish line.

In case of a close finish, the line of the body crossing the finish line decides the results, regardless of the time of the finish punch.

On the shortest courses (W14, MIX K (easy)) one of the controls is very close (30m) to the edge of the map (which is an easily visible wide straight road). Please pay attention!
